

Join us for our Fourth Annual Ubuntu Day
of Service

Ubuntu is a unique word. A Zulu phrase, it can be translated “I am only because we are, and since we are, therefore I am.” Or “I am human because you are human.” It recognizes each human being as part of a community. It moves us to action on behalf of our neighbor. Ubuntu is a celebration of being in community with people as mission.

Register online

Please register so we know how many people to prepare for at each site. Plan to arrive at 9 am. We begin with a representative of each site telling us about their location and what they do. We will also explain the work projects.

Bring a bag lunch (except if serving at Pfeiffer University where lunch will be provided).

Water will be provided at each location. Feel free to bring coffee if you would like.

PURPOSE
