125 Ideas for Recruiting New Members

Western North Carolina Conference United Methodist Women

1. Smile, be pleasant and positive.

2. Send birthday cards to prospective members and cards to new mothers. (Gift to Mission cards are great choices for these cards!)

3. Plan and promote United Methodist Women celebrations such as A Call to Prayer and Self-Denial and UMW Sunday; sponsor a Children’s Sabbath.

4. Recognize obstacles that prevent ladies from participating like child care or elder care issues and try to respond.

5. Ask potential members about current involvement at home, at work and in the community.

6. Hold informal gatherings like teas, breakfasts, brunches, etc.

7. Wear name tags and provide them for visitors so you can greet each person by name.

8. Be flexible in scheduling meetings.

9. Share issues of response magazine with prospective members.

10. Invite non-members to participate in meetings and activities and offer responsibility.

11. Avoid over- or under-selling the organization.
12 Share YOUR story. What blesses you about being a United Methodist Woman and how have you been a blessing to others?

13 Use and display UMW materials and resources.

14 Make a UMW bulletin board and keep it current.

15 Send news to local media and post upcoming events and stories on social media.

16 Connect to others using social media sites.

National sites:

Facebook: http://www.facebook.com/UMWomen

Twitter: http://www.twitter.com/UMWomen

Flickr: http://www.flickr.com/photos/UMWomen

Pinterest: http://www.pinterest.com/UMWomen

YouTube: http://www.youtube.com/user/UMWomen

United Methodist Women website: http://www.unitedmethodistwomen.org

WNCCUMW sites:

Facebook: http://www.facebook.com/wnccumw

Twitter: http://www.twitter.com/wnccumw

Flickr: http://www.flickr.com/photos/wnccumw

Pinterest: http://www.pinterest.com/wnccumw

YouTube: http://www.youtube.com/user/wnccumw

WNCCUMW website: http://www.wnccumw.org

17 Keep the information on social media current. Tag people in photos and comment on posts by others about UMW. Share articles posted.
18. Be inclusive of your community.
19. Reflect United Methodist Women’s commitment to multicultural and multiracial inclusiveness.
20. Seek out visitors and new members in the congregation and get to know their interests.
21. Visit someone who has experienced a hurt or joy.
22. Provide scholarships for first time attendees to district and conference events including Annual Meetings, Spiritual Growth Retreats and Mission u.
23. Provide scholarships for teen women to attend Mission u.
24. Be an advocate for children.
25. Be open to others’ opinions.
26. Write thank-you notes.
27. Celebrate outstanding achievements and projects and consider honoring those individuals with Special Mission Recognition pins.
28. Create a UMW suggestion box and display it.
29. Encourage attendance at training opportunities that are offered.
30. Accept and affirm individuality.
31. Say to an absent person, “We missed you.”
32. Extend personal invitations to events and gatherings. If someone has a passion for a topic, be sure to invite her whenever that topic will be the focus of a program or event (i.e. children in poverty, human trafficking, domestic violence, etc.).
33. Say “thank you” at every opportunity.
34. Contact every woman in the church.
Schedule meetings at times and places so that younger women can participate.

Create community and affirm sisterhood.

Create opportunities for faith development.

Invite someone to create a DVD about membership development.

Do a member opinion survey.

Offer transportation to members who would not be able to attend events (non-drivers, those who don’t drive at night, etc.).

Communicate! Communicate! Communicate!

Plan and promote membership events.

Invite co-workers and neighbors with special interests or expertise to be a part of your programs.

Be creative in using the United Methodist Women Program Book. Make the programs come alive! Do not simply read from it.

Emphasize, build upon and celebrate action that grows out of programs.

Involve new members/prospective members very soon in some activity.

Make creative use of new talents and interests.

Recruit with intention new retirees.

Recruit with intention new women in the community.

Recruit with intention minorities.

Promote special interest groups.

Provide support to members’ service to church and community.

Provide a “Friendship Partner” for a year to new members.
Use the church newsletter to share information.

Keep the PURPOSE of United Methodist Women central to recruitment efforts when planning events and studies.

Do an inventory of women to discover interest for groups, circles and sub-groups.

After worship service or at another convenient time, host a brief gathering with light refreshments introducing United Methodist Women and highlighting our PURPOSE.

Form task groups for activities, keeping tasks focused and disbanding when a task is complete.

Hold a membership festival.

Develop and post a membership activities calendar for the year.

Be a self-appointed hostess to greet and create a welcome feeling among those in attendance at all gatherings and activities.

Find ways to help new members get to know others. Offer to take them to local unit meetings as well as district and conference events.

Invite women in the church to come to gatherings or activities as “guests.”

Let people know that you enjoy your membership in United Methodist Women!

Be a source of encouragement and support to new or young women.

Sponsor retreats, day-apart events and prayer breakfasts.

Invite several churches to participate in the planning and presentation of mission studies or other events.

Invite conference and district leadership to your units.

Strive to be imaginative in all that you do. Be creative and innovative.
Avoid monotonous activities.

Affirm new ideas.

Schedule fun things to do that appeal to several age groups.

Invite someone new to attend a conference or district event with you.

Plan gatherings and events that are worth the time and effort to attend.

Avoid overwork and “burn out.”

Have a brainstorming session on attracting new members.

Help members get to know and understand one another.

Explain clearly how our individual monetary contributions make mission possible.

Organize a teen women circle and give it careful attention and support.

Understand that some women want to participate in a “hands on” way. Provide opportunities for this type of participation such as UMCOR kit preparation, school partnership, etc.

Include all women in meaningful participation.

Encourage all members to talk to a prospective member.

Do not overlook anyone.

Look for new members: down the pews, on the church roll, on shut-in lists, among non-church goers, among students away from home, in women relocating to retirement communities, mothers of preschoolers, etc.

Offer ways to help women to know God.

Find women who are needed by your unit: writers, activists, travelers, study leaders, mission site visitors, and volunteers in community action.
Offer tasks that can be done without leaving the home.

Make sure there are daytime activities for those who do not go out at night.

Offer alternatives to meetings.

Allow and offer choices for expressing the meaning of “membership.”

Encourage Reading Program sub-groups.

Be prepared to answer: Who are we? What do we do? What can we offer?

Learn as much as possible about the persons you want to recruit.

Compile a list of ten reasons for joining United Methodist Women and use it to promote the organization.

Read response magazine and share interesting articles and ideas.

Pray for United Methodist Women.

Include family members in some United Methodist Women events and activities.

Invite local college/university women to gatherings and events.

 Invite teen women to a brainstorming session about United Methodist Women.

Promote a poster or banner contest that encourages expression of the ways that United Methodist Women are in mission.

Organize units in nursing homes/retirement homes.

Encourage prayer partners and prayer chains.

Follow up with all new members.

Plan short-term events.
Plan Lenten lunches with mission themes. Encourage women who are employed nearby to participate.

Plan short-term seasonal service or gift projects such as to women in prison or shelters.

Participate in UMCOR kit preparation and educate others about why we do them and where they go.

Plan an art show using themes related to mission programs/projects.

Create puzzles and quizzes related to United Methodist Women’s organization, history and programs.

Use response, New World Outlook, and the Prayer Calendar to make displays of the faces of mission.

Display maps found in response.

Share the news of good things taking place.

Have a Family Mission Fair.

Honor a variety of people with Special Mission Recognition pins.

Use personal contact as much as possible.

Use every opportunity to invite others to join United Methodist Women.

Challenge every woman in some positive way.

Invite women from your place of employment or your neighborhood.

Express enthusiasm for the organization that emphasizes its mission and its effectiveness through dedicated persons.

Publish the PURPOSE of United Methodist Women in church newsletter and bulletin.
Provide a packet of resources about United Methodist Women to potential members.

Plan all gatherings in locations that are accessible to people with disabilities.

Develop a talent bank.

Promote the Reading Program.

Remember that it can take at least five invitations to someone before they accept. Don’t give up!

PURPOSE of United Methodist Women

The organized unit of United Methodist Women shall be a community of women whose PURPOSE is to know God and to experience freedom as whole persons through Jesus Christ; to develop a creative, supportive fellowship; and to expand concepts of mission through participation in the global ministries of the church.

Western North Carolina Conference United Methodist Women:

Mission Coordinator Membership Nurture and Outreach – Jatana Royster
jatana7@windstream.net

Conference President – Tonya Lanier
sonshiners@lexcominc.net

February 2014