Global Migration and Immigration Rights

United Methodist Women's immigration initiative is part of our commitment to racial justice and to civil and human rights. United Methodist Women seek to welcome the stranger and to advocate for just immigration policies.

WNCC UMW

Immigration Reform Seminar
GBCS Washington DC
May 3-6, 2015

Do not neglect to show hospitality to strangers, for by this some have entertained angels without knowing it. (Hebrews 13:2)

Immigration is one of the most complex and controversial issues of our time. In the New Testament, we are called to welcome strangers. Jesus taught his followers how they treat a stranger is how they treat Him (Matt. 25). Romans 13 instructs followers to "be subject to the governing authorities" that God has established. Scripture guides us to advocate for solutions that are both welcoming to immigrants and which respect and restore the rule of law.
